SYSTEMS & PROCESSES TO GROW, SCALE
OR EVEN SELL YOUR BUSINESS

JOIN OUR FANS

"When you're a small business owner, it can be hard to get everything out of your brain, onto paper but Kerry Anne helped us do just that. We already had some processes in place. She not only helped us fix them up, but brought our business to the next level."

Melanie McVean,
No Pong

"Incredible skills of operational knowledge and team management. As our Integrator Kerry Anne built strong relationships with our team to understand their motivations and support them in their processes and operations. She has made a huge positive impact on our business and created some strong foundations for us to continue to build from."

Cheryl Leong,
The Growth Hub

VERVE CONSULTING

Do inefficiencies in your workplace frustrate you and your team, making it hard to grow the business and establish a more sustainable version of expansion?

Perhaps your business is growing faster than you could imagine... you're busy serving customers, increasing your offerings and employing new team members. Best of all, it's evolving organically. But there are times when all that growth starts to feel like a runaway train in some areas of your business. For example, when:

- things get lost and time is wasted,
- staff don't know how what to do, so they come to you – again and again
- there is no set plan, so people do it their own way
- a key team member is away sick, and no-one knows how to cover their absence

At Operation Verve we possess a defining dedication to equipping business owners, management staff and every member of the team with the knowledge and skills they need to create a company that buzzes with the productivity of happy people who genuinely love being there. Maximising the productivity of the team is the cornerstone of workplace certainty for everyone, sustainable expansion for the business, and lifestyle choices for the owner.

Please take a look over our consulting experience and let us know how we can help you create lasting changes in your team soon. We are more than happy to help in any way we can and look forward to hearing from you.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

- We establish the specific projects required to frame up your customised systems program
- We schedule a time that suits you for your consulting calls
- You complete the Getting Started Survey and set up requirements
- We conduct the first three sessions to create a detailed snapshot of your current business state
- We develop a weekly planner to map out the exact way will invest the following months of work in your business
- We execute that plan, developing and implementing streamlined processes to facilitate lasting business growth
- We follow up with one more session after a month to square away details of implementation
